DETAILED ACTION

In view of the Appeal Brief filed on March 4, 2008, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED.

A new ground of rejection is set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) request reinstatement of the appeal.

If reinstatement of the appeal is requested, such request must be accompanied by a supplemental appeal brief, but no new amendments, affidavits (37 CFR 1.130, 1.131 or 1.132) or other evidence are permitted. See 37 CFR 1.193(b)(2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 8,15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Regarding claims 8 and 15, “classifier module” as claimed lacks evidence of storage on a medium which enables any underlying functionality to occur. In view of Applicant’s argument on pages 13-14 of the Appeal Brief, “the classifier module is described in terms of a server (such as a CORBA server) and written in software such as Java.”

As commonly known in the art, a server is not necessarily hardware. Instead, one can reasonably interpret it as software. Software, per se, is non-statutory. See M.P.E.P. 2601.1 Section I, which states, "Since a computer program is merely a set of instructions capable of being executed by a computer, the computer program itself is not a process and USPTO personnel should treat a claim for a computer program, without the computer-readable medium needed to realize the computer program's functionality, as nonstatutory functional descriptive material."

Claims 8 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. These claims are directed to module in computer-readable medium. The "module" is non-functional description material. See MPEP 2106.01 which states "when nonfunctional descriptive material is recorded on some computer-readable medium, in a computer or on an electromagnetic carrier signal, it is not statutory since no requisite functionality is present to satisfy the practical application requirement. Merely claiming nonfunctional descriptive material, i.e., abstract ideas, stored on a computer-readable medium, in a computer, or on an electromagnetic carrier signal, does not make it statutory. "

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-7, 9-14 and 16 are allowed.

In combination with every elements in the claim, the prior art of record fails to teach "the classification rules being arranged into a plurality of rule sets, said rule sets being associated with one another in accordance with a hierarchical structure" and "the classification module being arranged to cause the at least one text analyzer...to apply at least one of said rule sets to the message content in accordance with said hierarchical structure wherein the at least one result generated by application of a rule set from said plurality of the rule sets to the message content determines at least one other rule set from said plurality of rule sets next to be applied to said message content."
